

Fairy Stories Limited presents

Tula the Tooth Fairy

Prologue

© 2014 Fairy Stories Limited

www.tulatoothfairy.com

This book together with its text and illustrations may not be copied or reproduced in whole or part without the express written permission of the copyright owner.

For further information email:

info@tulatoothfairy.com

To subscribe to the series visit:

www.tulatoothfairy.com/subscribe

Prologue

Welcome to Vitura

The planet Orleana, the home of the Tooth Fairies, sits amongst the twinkling stars of outer space. On Orleana the sky is blue and the sun always shines, even when it rains.

Orleana was once a world bursting life, colour and wonder. It was filled with high, rocky mountains (molar mountains), lakes containing healing salt (salt water lakes), coconut water ponds (coconut ponds), valleys of fresh, green grass (vitality valleys) and beautiful forests packed with lovely plants, including pretty flowers (floss forests). The pure greenness of the grass, the beauty of the plants and the strong sunlight, kept all the Tooth Fairies alive and well.

However, the planet is no longer like this. The evil Rottsters, the other creatures that live on this world, have sucked all the energy out of it; crumbling the molar mountains, draining the salt water lakes and coconut ponds so they are empty, and killing all the grass and plants in the vitality valleys and floss forests. This has turned Orleana into a harsh desert, containing nothing but rocks and sand.

Only the kingdom of Vitura, where the Tooth Fairies live, has at least some of the beauty that once belonged to the whole planet. There is a Molar Mountain range, a group of Salt Water Lakes and Coconut Ponds, a Vitality Valley and even a Floss Forest. These are all looked after and protected by the Tooth Fairies.

The Tooth Fairies are kind, friendly creatures. All their homes in Vitura are powered by baby teeth. Each tooth is broken down and the energy inside it gives power to all the homes in the kingdom. This is why the Tooth Fairies come to Earth and collect the baby teeth that have fallen out of the mouths of children.

Every time a child on Earth wishes for a Tooth Fairy to come and collect one of their old baby teeth, the tips of the Fairies' magic wands glow. A group of Tooth Fairies are then sent to Earth in order to pick up the tooth, leaving behind a gold coin for the child as a 'thank you' gift.

As well as homes, Vitura contains a local school, Gumbridge University¹ and Crown Castle². Once they leave the local School, some

¹ A university is a large school where students go after normal school.

² Castles are large strong buildings where a King or Queen lives with their family and friends to defend them against attacks by enemies.

Tooth Fairies go to Gumbridge University and learn how to collect baby teeth.

However, in a dank, dark cave, on the opposite side of the Floss Forest, live the Rottsters. Most of these cruel, nasty creatures are made up of horrid, dark slime. A few of them look like Fairies without wings, and have grey bodies. These include their wicked ruler, Emperor Rott, his son Prince DK and Captain Plaque.

The Rottsters suck the beauty and the energy out of everything, enjoying the destruction and misery this causes. For many years they have been attacking Vitura, attempting to enslave the Tooth Fairies and turn the kingdom into a desert³ like the rest of the planet. However, each time this happens, the Tooth Fairies have been able to successfully defend their home.

This is because of the Magic Shield that is activated every time the Rottsters try to attack. The shield protects Vitura by placing a giant bubble around the whole kingdom, stopping the Rottsters from entering. It shelters everything from the Molar Mountain range all the way up to the edge of the Floss Forest, covering the Tooth Fairies' homes, the School, Gumbridge University, Crown Castle the Vitality Valley, the Salt Water Lakes and Coconut Ponds.

The energy inside baby teeth is also used to keep the Magic Shield working and so far the shield has done a wonderful job of protecting the Tooth Fairies and their kingdom... until recently!

³ Deserts are hot, sandy, rocky places with little or no rainfall.

On Earth, more and more baby teeth have become rotten and unhealthy. This means they are not able to give the Tooth Fairies the energy they need to keep everything in Vitura working and to keep the Magic Shield active. If the shield runs out of power, the Rottsters will be able to invade Vitura and destroy it, making the Tooth Fairies their slaves.

However, not all hope is lost. Inside Crown Castle, sitting in his throne⁴ room, the wise, old ruler of Vitura, King Wisdom, is thinking of a plan to save his kingdom and the Tooth Fairies. It involves his best pupils at Gumbridge University, particularly one of his favourites: a brave, young Fairy called Tula.

It is she and her friends who will be our heroes throughout this tale, and the many others that follow.

This is how their adventures begin...

⁴ A throne is a large usually ornate chair where the King or Queen sits for important occasions.